

THE POLICE REORGANIZATION OF BOSTON POLICE DEPARTMENT

1000 CONFERENCE WITH GOVERNOR

It was thought he had gone to the Hotel Bellevue, but he was reported not there. He did not appear at police headquarters. At 6 Beacon st., where he has an office, and at his Brighton home he was reported not present.

Having consistently refused to resign in the face of the charges made during the investigation and in Warner's report, and having failed to embrace what he must have recognized as the opportunity to do so at the conference, it was not believed that he would voluntarily relinquish his office.

Tomorrow, it was expected, he would reply to the Governor's demand and state his refusal.

The consent of the executive committee is necessary to the Governor's order for removal. This, it was apparent, would be immediately given.

Governor Allen's first statement that his demand was based in part on the necessity of effecting a reorganization of the police department was the first official admission that the Boston force would be shaken from top to bottom, although the Boston American predicted it while the Garrett probe was still in progress.

In view of the Governor's statement and Atty.-Gen. Sullivan's report, it was believed that the reorganization would be comparatively unopposed by the attorney-general, who found himself in a difficult position.

POLICE TRIALS LOOM
Immediate trial board hearings are scheduled on charges to be preferred by the new police commissioner against Capt. Wm. J. Patterson, Lieut. Daniel H. Hines, Sergt. Arthur Therman and several other members of the police force.

Many captains will be transferred. It is forecast and lesser officers will be promiscuously scrambled in an effort to break up cliques and rid the force of the last vestige of corruption under the Wilson regime.

Senator Parkman is a member of one of Boston's oldest families and is independently wealthy. He fulfills all legal requirements of the post and would make an able commissioner.

PRIZAN MENTIONED
Other names said to have been considered by Governor Allen were those of James J. Phelan, prominent Boston banker; Sheriff John A. Scullion and Representative

Warner Turns Papers in Case Over to Foley

Supt. Crowley was the police officer who made the charges and appearance on the witness stand, and who held the police force in check throughout the investigation. Sergt. Timmons and Special Officer Cline of the East Endham station, specifically accused of taking graft money.

His Hotel was the principals in the shakedown. They were named by Sullivan in his scathing disclosure on the stand.

The investigation of Dist. Atty. Foley to Atty. Hall to act as prosecutor in the case presented before the Suffolk County Grand Jury was attacked by Senator Sullivan, as an attempt to bring down the probe, as an attempt to bring down the probe.

Senator Sullivan declared the public demands that Dist. Atty. Foley assume his share of the responsibility and try the case personally.

"It is absolutely imperative," said the State Senator, "that the district attorney conduct these cases personally so that the Grand Jury and the trial jury will be convinced of the significance of the results."

This statement by me is made in no way for the purpose of detracting from the excellent ability of Damon E. Hall.

"Attached to the office of the district attorney are nine assistants who have been trying criminal cases day after day, the district attorney himself not having seen fit to carry out his part of his duty."

"The salaries of the district attorney and his assistants are most $200,000 annually. Why is it necessary to turn to the already heavily burdened for additional trial counsel?"

"You try the case personally, Mr. District Attorney. The public demands it. Take share of the responsibility."

Atty.-Gen. Sullivan was turned over to Dist. Atty. William J. Bennett. Sullivan said the duty of prosecuting Garrett and other members of the police force.

"The report of the investigation of the pension awarded Oliver B. Garrett and of matters

FILED'S SUE DISMISSED BY HIGH COURT

Supreme Bench Upholds Superior Court Ruling for Company Directors

The full bench of the Supreme Court today affirmed the superior court decree dismissing the bill in equity of Edward A. Filene to enjoin the directors of William Filene's Sons Co. from merging the stock with that of two other firms.

The action defeated Edward A. Filene in his fight started against A. Lincoln Filene, Edward J. Frost and Louis R. Kersfeldt, who sought to act as a stock deposit committee in a merger of the Filene stock with that of Abraham & Straum.

Arguments for Edward Filene were made last December before the full bench by John W. Davis, former Democratic candidate for President.

Preliminary pleadings were started on the case last June when Edward Filene sought to enjoin the other three from transferring any of their common stock to anyone except on order of the court.

The plaintiff contended that the defendants, who the committee violated his rights under a "settlement agreement," entered into July 1928, to acquire the company.

The Supreme Court opinion, written by Justice Carroll, said: "The evidence in this case does not show that the plaintiff has any advantage, with reference to sale or exchange of stock, as the defendants."

"They could not dispose of their holdings without giving the plaintiff the same right and same terms and conditions."

As we construe the plaintiff's bill, the benefit according to the defendants in which the plaintiff does not share do not amount to a deprivation of the property of the plaintiff.

Man Shoots Himself on Daughter's Grave

Suffield, Conn., May 2 (AP)—Continued brooding over the death of his daughter, Elsie 12, which occurred last fall as the result of an automobile accident, is the reason for the attempted suicide of a man who had accompanied the victim on an ill-fated motor car trip, reported in connection with the deaths.

John E. Wike, Sharon, Ct., 40-year-old father of the two brothers, and Powell G. Soley, Washington, Ct., their friend and business partner, both of whom had been charged with the slaying of the Smiths, were freed of murder charges at the conclusion of a preliminary hearing last night.

26 KILLED, MANY LEFT HOMELESS BY TORNADO AND CHUDBURST

TREMEDEOUS DAMAGE IN MID-WEST

Six Persons Missing and Hundreds Injured Reports Chicago

Chicago, May 2.—Twenty-six persons were reported killed and six others were missing today as the result of sporadic tornadoes and a chudburst in the Middle West last night and early this morning.

Two men were killed in the Chicago area where hail and wind caused $100,000 damage.

A farmer was struck dead by lightning near Lawton, N. D.

Two women died when their automobile skidded in a storm near Duluth, Minn.

Mrs. W. W. Lawler, her daughter, Betty Jane, and the Walter Dodge, all of Rochester, Minn., were drawn from the hills onto the car in which they were riding near Lake City, Minn.

In Rockford, Ill., Lester Withrow was killed and Herman Anderson was believed dying. Two huge trees were blown by the storm crashed the automobile in which they were riding.

Three persons were killed at Hardin, Mo., eight miles from Rideburg.

At Tekamah, Neb., four persons were reported killed and several injured. Scores were made homeless as the force of the storm crashed houses and out buildings.

Leader, Neb., a town of nearly 1000 persons, was virtually wiped from the map. Three persons were reported dead there. Hundreds are homeless.

Hans C. Anderson was killed in his mother's arms. The mother's arms were broken as the child was torn from her grasp.

Although one twister moved a path through the heart of Homer, Neb., Mrs. Millie Lethrop, winner of a medal for bravery, survived at her telephone neighborhood to warn rural residents of the approaching tornado.

Calls for physicians and nurses have been dispatched from the stricken areas, indicating that the injured list may reach huge proportions.

At Westbury, Wis., Archibald Funk, 39, was killed.

All three storms originated in Kansas and two of them swept outward into Missouri, where a toll of four dead was left at the town of Norborne.

Mrs. C. O. Rice, 56, wife of the president of the Northern Trust Co. and her 17-year-old son, John, were killed when their home was demolished.

Two other residences in the town collapsed, causing the deaths of Charles Storer, 43, a plumber, and Ruby Shirley, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Shirley.

At Rockspaw, Kan., Lawrence Kern, 45, a farmer, was killed, his wife and three children were injured when the twister demolished their home.

A farm home near Valley Falls, Kan., was blown away and five were reported missing.

SNIPER IN CIVIL WAR HOOPER NOT A DRY AT HEART

Stanton Letter Placed in the Record of the Senate Lobby Investigation

Washington, May 2 (AP)—A letter written by William H. Stanton, chairman of the Board of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, placed in the record of the Senate lobby committee today, said he knew that President Hoover "is not at heart a dry."

The letter was read after Stanton had denied, in response to a question by Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, that the association had taken liquor to be served at a celebration for a candidate for the presidency in 1925.

No name was mentioned by Stanton in putting the question.

The Stanton letter was written in March, 1925, to Herbert L. Clark of Philadelphia.

After Stanton wrote he knew Mr. Hoover "is not at heart a dry" he added:

"I feel much approach the conclusion that he is a dry because of the prospective profits he will make by making prohibition a success."

Chairman Caraway said a friend of Secretary of Labor Davis had called attention to an apparent inconsistency in Stanton's testimony yesterday, when he expressed confidence that the prohibition amendment would be passed.

Hoover cabinet believed prohibition a failure.

"I do not regard him hardly as a wet," Stanton testified today, adding that he still believed the labor secretary thought prohibition a failure.

Of the other cabinet members mentioned, Stimson, Adams and Linnell said yesterday Stanton had not spoken for them, and Davis, Mellon and Brown did not comment.

LINDY IN DEBUT AT RADO KEY

Havana, May 2 (AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh landed here at 12:30 p. m. from Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, on his way to Miami, and expected to land before 5 o'clock this evening. He left Puerto Cabezas at 5:30 a. m.

New York, May 2 (AP)—To his other accomplishments Charles A. Lindbergh has added that of radio operator.

In his way today from Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, on the first seven-day nonstop flight from Buenos Aires on the Pan American Airways the cockpit tapped out the Morse code for the radio position of his plane.

"10:10 a. m., dead reckoning position 10 degrees 34 minutes north, 82 degrees 44 minutes west."

(Signal) "LINDBERGH."

Then the following message was received: "operator, B. A. Denker."

"The colonel reported yesterday afternoon that he could not get into the air today because of a bad cold."

When he learned the code associates here could not say.

CHILD DIES IN SMOKE, 7 SAVED

Springfield, May 2—A four-year-old child is dead, his grandfather was rescued unconscious and six other members of a family were carried down ladders in a fire which caused slight damage to a cottage on Moore st.

Willard Conley was suffocated by smoke as he slept on the second floor and it was in an effort to save his life that his grandfather, Nicholas DeMilla, 62, was overcome. DeMilla is in Mary's hospital in a precarious condition.

The others rescued were Mrs. Mary Conley, mother of Willard; her daughter, Mary, 15½ years old; her seven-year-old son Arthur, and three sisters, Mildred, Vera and Evelyn DeMilla. The fire, starting in a wooden rubbish barrel in the cellar, halted at the first floor.

William J. Greener, 12, of West Roxford, valedictorian of the graduating class of the Johnson high school at North Andover. Young Greener entered grammar school at the age of five and one-half, and in two and one-half years completed nine years. He was in high school when eight years old. (Associated Press photo.)

Natick Woman Hurt; Fire Destroys Home

Natick, May 2—After hanging to a window ledge on the second floor of her home, while flames licked at her hands, Mrs. Beatrice E. Rogers, 38, of Foxwell st., dropped to the yard today and was seriously injured. The fire destroyed her home.

Mrs. Rogers was alone when the kitchen of the house burst into flames. She was lying down in her bedroom and was cut off from escape by stairways.

After climbing out the window, her strength gave way as the blaze reached her.

She was taken to Leonard Moore hospital suffering from a broken rib and arm from the shock drop. Her husband, Leon B. Rogers, was away at work.

Thousands of women and children flocked today to city and suburban beaches to seek relief from the sizzling heat which shot the mercury to 91 above at 3 o'clock, smashed all records for this time of the year thus far. The previous high mark for this date was 88 above, reached in 1894.

The locker rooms at the L. st. baths were jammed soon after 5 o'clock. Many had ordered lunch thrown out to adults, while along the adjoining Strandway beach hundreds of mothers and children enjoyed the cooling waves. Record crowds were reported at Revere and Nantasket and extra police were called in to service the beach. The heavy vehicular traffic on the boulevards leading to and from these resorts.

PLANTS ARE CLOSED

Employees of the L. st. bathhouse, an early evening crush when downtown Boston offices and factories closed for the day, while police departments of all benches within the metropolitan district were preparing to control augmented automobile traffic well into the night.

The lockers at L. st. baths were ordered opened daily under further notice by Mayor Curley and thousands of women had children flocked to Revere and Nantasket beaches to escape the sizzling heat of the city.

Straw hats were observed on Summer and Washington sts. as female office workers paraded to lunch in the shelter of the city's white male employees for the first time in 1930 doffed coats to attack their tasks in shirt sleeves.

The weather man predicts a temperature drop tomorrow on the heels of a promised thunder storm and the advent of brisk west and southwest winds.

MERCURY MOUNTS

Starting at 67 above, shortly after midnight, the silver column gradually edged its way upward within its narrow tube to 80 at 10 o'clock, when it made a 1-degree jump to 81 at noon and then went over the top at 3 o'clock to capture the May 2 record at 91 above.

The promised relief in based on the presence of a storm area over the Lake region, which has already reached as far as Maine, drowning Portland and other sections of that state with heavy rain.

Today, the mercury, however, indicates that the forecast of rain for the next few days is not likely to be realized.

CENSUS SHOWS ABINGTON GAIN

Census figures for Abington would indicate that there has been a great back-to-nature trend in the last 10 years. In 1920 there were 12 farms listed in the town and this year's figures show there are 70. There are now 3871 residents, a gain of 84 over the previous figures.

Sandwich has lost in the population race, having had 1488 10 years ago and now only 1391.

On the face of return Bridgewater has a gain of 614, reporting a population of 3052, compared with 1920 figures of 2438.

In reality the town has had a loss of 422, while the State farm board there has gained by 1060. In 1920 there were 790 prisoners and 821 insane patients. Now there are 1570 prisoners and 1097 insane persons.

New Bay State census figures announced today include Oak Bluffs, 219, gain of 29, 9.53 per cent; West Tisbury, 268, loss of 22, 8.22 per cent; Gosnold, 220, loss of 13, or 5.92 per cent; Sandwich, 1308, loss of 22, or 1.63 per cent; Bridgewater, 3052, gain of 614, or 2.28 per cent.

Hyannis, 211, gain of 302, or 24.94 per cent; Nantuxet, 215, loss of 33, or 15.4 per cent; Hyannis, 2800, gain of 226, or 8.74 per cent; Mattapoisett, 468, gain of 22, or 4.7 per cent; Orleans, 1509, gain of 147, or 14.53 per cent; Swansea, 3857, gain of 104, or 2.7 per cent.

Thole Islands figures included North Fowlesboro, 11796, gain of 3370, or 28.6 per cent.

Figures for Pawtucket were 72,033, gain of 12,355, or 20.3 per cent.

TROOPS TO STAY IN OHIO PRISON

Columbus, O., May 2—Military rule of Ohio State penitentiary will continue possibly for 30 days.

The old prison, wrecked by fire and by mutinous convicts, will be gradually repaired and when the cells are again ready all of the 3800 prisoners will be locked up.

They are now kept in other buildings and a stockade, hastily erected by the troops.

Whether Warden Preston E. Thomas will lose his job, which he has held for 17 years is problematical. He insists he will not quit under fire. The clamor of convicts for his removal has died to a whisper and his political enemies have ceased firing.

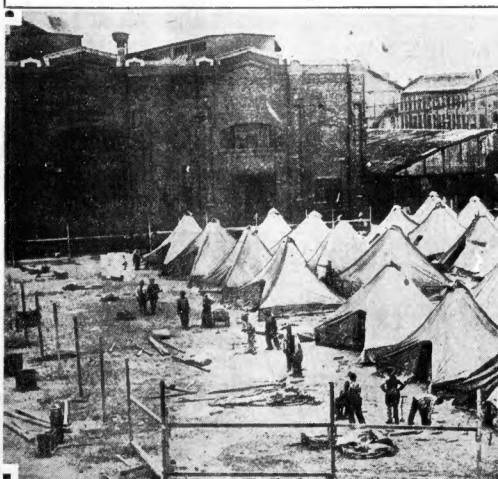

Governor Myers V. Cooper was expected to receive by tomorrow the report and recommendations of the special board he appointed to investigate the fire tragedy of April 21 when 320 convicts, trapped in their cells, were burned to death or suffocated.

BRITISH ENVOY ENDS RUM BAN

Washington, May 2 (AP)—Importation of liquor by the British embassy for the official use of the ambassador and the embassy staff is to be resumed. It was stopped by the former ambassador, Sir Ernie Howard.

Sir Ronald Lindsay, the present ambassador, has reached the conclusion that the matter is entirely a personal one, not affecting the action of anyone else or diplomatic privilege.

Liquor will be served at social functions given by the ambassador in the embassy on any such occasions as he may desire.

John D., Jr., Boosts Gift by $3,500,000

Paris, May 2 (AP)—Announcement had tendered a gift of $3,500,000, supplementing a $2,000,000 previous gift toward the completion of University City, was made today by Senator Andre Honnorat, a trustee.

The gift was made in a letter from the Rev. Dr. Raymond B. Fick on behalf of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

The original gift was found insufficient. The university city covers a large acreage just outside of Paris.

a personal visit of farewell to his great friend, Ross Caron, once premier star of the Paris Opera. The story has just been revealed here, following the death of Mme Caron, who had known Clemenceau since 1890.

With his characteristic defiance of doctors, Clemenceau waited until a lie hour and then had his chauffeur take him to Mme Caron's home a mile away.

At the bowed, hailing figure appeared the doorway Mme. Caron exclaimed: "It is really you, Georges? I was told you were very sick and unable to leave your bed."

"That's almost correct," replied Clemenceau. "You should not see a sick man but one who is dying—nearly dead. I have come to say farewell while there is yet time."

"We will never see each other again, behaving like friends for 40 years, I couldn't depart without saying my affection for you."

HUB BUILDING BOOMS

Boston issued permits for 673 building construction jobs with a valuation of $1,672,627, during the past month, according to the figures compiled by Building Commissioner Eugene C. Hultman.

He reported that so far 2023 permits have been issued during the four months of 1930 for building construction valued at $9,660,031. Included in the new buildings are the $24,000 kitchen and refectory at the Boston Sanatorium at Mattapan, the $180,000 addition at the New England Hospital for Women and Children and the $200,000 boiler plant at the Harvard Medical School dormitories at Longwood ave., Roxbury.

EDDIE SALTER TAKES BRIDE

Edward H. Salzman of 97 Wayland st., Roxbury, better known to baseball fans as Eddie Salter, recently signed with the Boston Braves, obtained a marriage license today as a waiver of the five-day law.

Salzman told Judge Thomas Dowd in municipal court he was ordered to join the Braves tonight and wished to take his bride with him.

She is Miss Edythe D. Kotzen, 22, of 90 Lloyd st., Dorchester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kotzen, formerly of Lowell, and not a ball fan, according to Salzman. He gave his age as 22 years. He is a pitcher with considerable experience in minor league teams, including Haverhill, Portland and Lynn teams of the New England League.

Students' Apology to Cop Lifts Ban at Andover

Andover, May 2—Humble apologies to Patrolman Frank McBride, by students of Phillips Andover academy today, lifted the ban on sports imposed yesterday as punishment for a jammer at the May breakfast in Town Hall where the ban.

McBride said he realized it was a boyish prank and that he had no grudge against the youths. A chain store is still mourning the loss of potatoes.

ITALIAN NAVY ALARMS PARIS

Paris, May 2 (AP)—Analysis of the Italian naval construction program for 1930 has resulted in some uneasiness in French official circles.

It is remarked that the Italian plan calls for exactly the same tonnage as the French, $3,000 for this year. Officials also note that the chief item on Italy's program is submarines, of which 22 are to be put on the stocks this year. This is precisely the department in which Italy was farthest behind France.

Because Italy now has less than half as many underwater craft, and proposes to bring her total to parity as soon as this naval development did not, it was said in official circles, seem likely to facilitate negotiations between France and Italy as provided at the London naval conference just ended.

Public School Boys Outdo Others at Harvard

Although public school graduates make up less than one-half of the undergraduate body at Harvard University, they attain a higher representation in the honor group than graduates of private schools, the Harvard Alumni Bulletin revealed in an editorial this morning. The Bulletin shows that of 39 students who attained scholastic standing in group I, the highest rating possible at Harvard, 26 were public school boys.

An extensive study, made some time ago by the Graduate School on Education, showed that while private school boys do better in their entrance examination, public

ANASTASIA TO LEAVE U.S.

By WILLIAM F. HAN

Universal Service Staff Correspondent

Berlin, May 2—Berlin, that the United States may refuse to grant another extension of her permit to stay in America, friends of Mrs. Anastasia Tschalkowsky, who claims to be the Grand Duchess Anastasia, daughter of Czar Nicholas II, have begun steps to hasten her return to Germany.

They claim she will bring suit to recover alleged Romanoff property in Germany which does not exist, and therefore will be the source of useless litigation and controversy on German soil.

Prof. Rudloff, Russian physician practicing here, is championing the cause of Anastasia, and has appealed to the government to permit her coming to Berlin.

She says a loan. May you a loan of $12,000,000. In return the match company will receive a partial monopoly.

Hunt Big Plane Reported in New Jersey Crash

Mt. Holly, N. J., May 2 (AP)—With airmen scouring the ground from the sky, more than a dozen planes continued their search today for a large yellow cabin biplane reported to have crashed yesterday in the New Jersey pine belt.

Robert Johnson, Pemberton, first to report the crash, said the plane fell near the spot where Amelia Carranza, Mexico's good-will girl, lost his life two years ago. It is a thickly wooded section between Brown's Mills and Whitinga.

Will Give Play at Mt. St. Joseph's

The senior class of Mount Saint Joseph's Academy will present "Twelfth Night" as its annual Shakespearean play Saturday afternoon and Sunday night.

Leo J. Turner, former chauffeur for John P. Mulcahey "boy broker" and Statehouse mystery man during the Garrett investigation was sentenced to one year in the house of correction today after being found guilty of larceny.

Turned stole $331 from Mrs. Annie Sharpe and Mrs. Irene Koushka of Roxbury and Joseph J. Sweeney, of Dorchester. He failed to take advantage of an opportunity to make restitution.

An additional charge of concealing leased property was lodged against him today. He will be tried on this charge next week.

Systematic daily treatments of fifteen min. use on the TOWER EXERCISER AND REDUCER are essential. THE TOWER EXERCISER AND REDUCER is adjustable to four degrees of vibration which are graded from No. 1, the extremely mild degree, to No. 4, the most vigorous. It is advisable to use either the No. 1 or No. 2 adjustment for the first several treatments until the tissues become accustomed to mechanical massage. Gradually you may increase the strength of vibration and the length of treatment. It is often beneficial to take treatments in the evening as well as morning, but do not over-exercise in an attempt to achieve immediate results.

Gentlemen:

In compliance with your request, we have received the information from the custom department of—regarding the woolens that you have purchased.

The woolens purchased by you represent the entire stock of the custom department of—These were formerly made into garments that sold from $100.00 to $150.00.

The greatest part of these woolens were purchased by their representative in Europe, because of their anxiety to preserve their individuality of style and fabric. Price was never considered a factor in purchasing woolens for this department. The goods in this lot costs them to land in America from $8.50 to $18.50 a yard.

You may safely say that these are among the finest suitings in the world and have never before been made up in ready-to-wear clothing.

These goods are all of foreign manufacture; of the very finest construction and new styles are confined to this department. They are chiefly fine worsteds.

We are listing the names of the manufacturers whose labels are most numerous among these piece goods:

FURNISH MODEL HOME FOR $125

Young people, anxious to marry but who feel that they cannot afford to furnish even a small home, should visit the model home exhibition at 104 East Canton street, today, where the South End unit of the Better Homes in America has furnished a three-room home completely at a cost of approximately $125.

The house is furnished completely with curtains, rugs and kitchen utensils. The house is planned for a family of four, including two children. In the living room is a large rug at $10.50 and three small ones costing $2.75 apiece. The Davenport is convertible into a double bed at night and cost $10, complete with the springs. The monks cloth cover cost $1.25.

The bedroom is designed for a baby and a young child. The baby's crib cost $11.50, and the child's bed, identical like that in the living room cost $12. The kitchen is furnished simply to allow the children room to play and contains a table and four chairs costing $6, a linoleum rug, $2.50, and a complete set of dishes and silver, consisting of knives, forks and spoons for six, as well as pots, pans and other necessary kitchen utensils.

Authorize Cash to Save Dillaway House
The State House of Representatives passed to be engrossed a bill authorizing the City of Boston to appropriate money outside the debt limit in order to restore and preserve the Dillaway House, so-called, in Roxbury.

The building was used by Gen. Thomas as his headquarters during the siege of Boston in the Revolutionary War and is now owned by the Boston school committee which is, apparently, willing to transfer it and some of the ground surrounding it.

Census Taker Can't Find Anyone in 294 Sq. Miles

Roxbury, Cal., May 2 (AP)—When Ann McKenzie got the job of census enumerator for an area of 294 square miles in northern Lassen County, he immediately began to figure his yen for four cents for each person counted.

Ann scanned 293 of those square miles without meeting a single human being. Just as the situation was beginning to look hopeless he came upon a lone man and hailed him with exulting zeal as he explained his mission.

The lonely one-eyed him coldly said: "Aw, I don't live here," he said.

Ann's report: Population 6, increase 6. Percentage of gain or loss, yes.

Spry Octogenarian Hikes to Reunion
Newton, N. J., May 2 (Samuel Rice is a spry young fellow of 82. He hitch-hiked 20 miles to attend a reunion of other young fellows. Of 27 men in Sussex County over 20, 72 attended a dinner.

NAB GYPSIES IN N. H. HOLDUP

West Ossipee, N. H., May 2 (AP)—A band of gypsies in two autos was captured here last night by Edward B. Coughlin, grocer, who had been notified an aged farmer had been held up, robbed of $80 in West Ossipee.

When the autos came speeding into town, Coughlin, at revolver point, forced the drivers to halt. The cars bore Ohio and Indiana registration plates and in their rear seats, two men and two women and three children. Coughlin held them for Sheriff Davis, who took them to jail in Laconia.

Paris Honors Count Killed in U. S. Crash

Paris, May 2 (AP)—Count Henri de la Vaulx, who gave his life to aviation, was honored in death today by France's great inspiring spirit of the air.

The body of the count, who was killed in a plane crash in New Jersey while on a visit to aviation centers in America, lay in state at the Aero Club of France and was followed by mourners of many nations to the Invalides where mass for the dead was said.

Bridge Party to Aid St. Anselm's College

The annual scholastic bridge and whist party in aid of St. Anselm's College, Manchester, N. H., will be held on Saturday afternoon, May 17, at the Hotel Statler.

Mrs. Walter Whelan of Milton, general chairman, will be assisted by Mesdames Joseph Dolan of Arlington, Archibald Beaton of Dorchester, Edward Maguire of Newton, Frederick Mahony of Brighton, and P. J. O'Connell of Westwater.

Denies Straddling Fence With Two Stolen Hens

Brockton, May 2—Although Francis E. Sheehan, 35, of Main street, Bridgewater, pleaded not guilty, Amelia Lombardi of Oak street, that town, says that Sheehan is the same six-foot-six giant who, with a hen under each arm, easily straddled a high fence which delayed the pursuer.

The breaking and entering charge was continued to May 2.

Hospital Increases Waltham Building

The valuation of building construction for which permits were issued in Waltham during April was nearly $1,000,000, the increase over the previous month being due to the permit for the Middlesex County Tuberculosis Hospital to be constructed on Trapelo road.

The total of permits was $999,615, while the estimated cost of the hospital buildings was given as $870,000.

"Thanks," Says Warner to the Boston American

Attorney-General Joseph A. Warner today thanked and complimented the Boston Evening American for the aid it has given to him in his investigation of Oliver B. Garrett. He said:

"I could not complete my investigation into the Oliver B. Garrett case without saying a special word of praise for the distinct service rendered me by the Boston Evening American.

"Extensively helpful was the public service offer of $5000 reward. It assisted me very materially in securing valuable information for the purpose of the investigation which otherwise I might not have secured."

$500 FEE FOR SLAYING OF HIS WIFE

Edgewood, May 2.—In the trial of Frederick L. Thompson, artist and engraver, a letter written to a Cambridge girl, promising marriage, in exchange for a mail-order poisoning of Mrs. Caroline E. Thompson, his wife, was introduced last yesterday.

The letter, written to Miss Mariet Dodge at an address given as Upland ave., Cambridge, a former servant in the home of Colonel Horace Brooks of Cambridge, promised the girl marriage if she would send a box of candy sprinkled with poison to Mrs. Thompson. The letter instructed the girl to mail the candy in the name of Mrs. Esther Miller of Watkiss, sister of Mrs. Thompson, to allow suspicion. A fee of $500 in event that the candy caused Mrs. Thompson's death was promised in addition to a promise that "he would marry her and take care of her."

A handwriting expert, Joseph Clark of Providence, identified the handwriting as that of Thompson. Thompson is a summer resident of Chilmarek, having been at the summer place of Colonel Brooks of New York and Burlington, Vt., with his wife before their divorce. Thompson is a well set up man of 40, the typical illustrator's ideal of an artist.

DIVIDED HOMES ARE SCORED

The man of the family is no longer its head according to Mrs. Anna Galin Spencer, social activist, in an address delivered before more than 150 members of the Better Homes unit in the Tremont City Club.

The banquet closed the fifth day of Better Homes Week, sponsored by the Boston committee for studying, broom and broom, problems. Where once the man was so accepted as head of the family, he is now being asked to share his power with the wife and mother.

"The idea of family control," Mrs. Spencer said, "is a thing of the past. It is no longer in its effect on the world."

"The great majority, however, are strictly on the water wagon when engaged in commercial flying."

Line Forms on the Right

Even detectives were baffled at police headquarters today as to the identity of the person who placed the "To Let" sign on the door of the liquor squad room at headquarters. Capt. George Patterson, accused in the Garrett probe, tore the sign down when he reported for duty today. (Staff photo.)

HUB ARMEN HIT 'DRUNK' FLIERS

Following a speech by Lieut. Albert Heinenberger on the menace of drunken flying, transport fliers at Boston airport today stood firmly for a war on drinking pilots.

Liquor and airplanes cannot mix; it is more dangerous than to mix liquor and automobiles, they agreed.

"Regular pilots think too much of their employers, their jobs and their licenses to fly while drunk," Harry C. Copland, manager of Curtiss-Wright Flying Service said.

"There is one thing to be watched, however, and that is the owners of private planes. All over the country there are boys who think nothing of taking a nap, climbing into their machines and going flying."

"The great majority, however, are strictly on the water wagon when engaged in commercial flying."

Prof. Bennett Dead
New Haven, Conn., May 2.—Prof. Charles Andrew Armstrong Bennett, chairman of the department of physics in Yale Graduate school, died at a hospital yesterday.

PROBE WIDENS AT BRAINTREE

Brookline, May 2.—Dist. Atty. Wilbur has asked the Braintree selectmen that his office be allowed a representative next Monday night at the meeting at which a report will be made on the police graft charges.

The special committee investigating the accusations is to report to the selectmen at that time. Dist. Atty. Wilbur has conferred with Selectman Cahill and states that so far the allegations have been too indefinite for his office to act on.

Seasonal evidence against a high official of Braintree will be made public next Tuesday, the day following the selectmen's hearing on charges of graft, drunkenness and inefficiency against the Braintree police. It was promised yesterday by Frederick W. Kerr, president of the Braintree Better Government Association.

On Tuesday morning the association's investigators, who have been making an independent inquiry into the affairs of the town, are to make a report of their findings to the association's membership.

Aimee's Daughter Ill After Plunge
Tatunah, May 2.—The daughter of Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, is ill in a hospital here with a high fever, the result of a bad fall from the tower to the lower deck of the French ship Angkor en route here from Palestine.

The evangelist had intended merely to pass through Istanbul and join her group of tourists at Oberammergau, Germany, but now must await developments in her daughter's illness.

Motorist Injured
Shirley Balant of 44 Eastern ave., Malden, was cut by flying glass on Eastern ave., that city, yesterday afternoon, when a car crashed through the windshield of an automobile manager of the Westinghouse group of radio stations.

Stork Loses Out as Crane Takes Over Baby Job

Imagine the chagrin to storkdom yesterday when it was learned that a Crane had brought a little daughter to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Backus of Nantucket. This particular Crane had the audacity to fly through the air with its tiny girl, just like storks used to do.

Dr. Roy H. Gilpatrick, 27 Bay State rd., Boston, arrived at the Denison airport, Atlantic, and took off from the landing field in a big Fairchild monoplane with Joshua Crane, Jr., at the controls.

Just 55 minutes later the plane landed at the Nevins Head Light field on Nantucket Island, where a car met Dr. Gilpatrick and rushed him to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Backus, in the town of Nantucket.

Soon after the daughter was delivered to its respective parents, Dr. Gilpatrick flew back to Atlantic in less than an hour, a distance of approximately 100 miles, and kept an appointment as a speaker at a noon luncheon.

Charity Requests in Johnson Will
Charitable and institutional bequests totaling $7500 are contained in the will of John W. Johnson, late of Woburn, disposing of an estate estimated at $200,000. The will was filed in Middlesex Probate Court yesterday.

Johnson, who died April 21, left $2000 to the Woburn Charitable Association; $1000 to the Home for Aged Men, Woburn; $500 to the M. S. F. C. C. $500 to the Salvation Army and $500 to Tuskegee Normal school.

Mrs. Johnson receives $50,000 outright and after five children get bequests of $10,000 each and a number of relative smaller amounts, the remainder of the estate goes to the widow.

Eggs Lost In Fire
Lowell, May 2.—Hundreds of dozens of hatching eggs were destroyed on the Lowell Lawrence, hatched when a truck on which they were loaded was consumed by fire.

Probe Death of Man In Old Quarry Hole

Monkman, N. H., May 2.—State's Atty. C. O. Granel, of Boscawen, announced here that an inquest is to be held at once into the finding of the body of Angelo Bartolini, missing quarry worker, in an abandoned quarry hole in Boscawen town.

Martha Lee Passes on Delicious Recipes to Thousands of N. E. Housewives

ALL TESTED IN HER KITCHEN

Old-fashioned New England fish chowder brought for territorial honors with Pittsburgh potatoes and "Tasty" salad dressing in the Martha Lee Kitchen this week.

The recipe for the chowder originated with a famous chef, Charles Foster, who, although the proprietor of the famous New York restaurant, still has the heart of New England cookery as proved by his unusually delicious chowder recipe.

The Pittsburgh potatoes were truly different and intriguing—a delicate combination of cubed potatoes, pimientos, grated cheese and cream sauce carefully proportioned and delicately flavored.

The Thousand Island dressing, which makes such a popular luncheon served with a half head of lettuce to the would-be hostess, deserves a special paragraph of its own—but you won't get it today. You can get it, however, by drop of mail. Let a line giving your membership number in the Martha Lee Weekly Club and asking for Lessen Sheet No. Five. We are going to give the sauce instead to Bessie Casperson, then which was can think of nothing more delicious in the line of economy and nutriment.

ALL SIZES OF SAUCES
6 links or servings of sausage.
(perbilled 5 minutes).
5 medium potatoes washed with 1/2 cup scalded milk.
1 1/2 cups milk thickened with 3 tbsp. flour.
Salt and pepper.
3 tbsp. butter.

Boil, wash and beat potatoes until fluffy, adding 1/2 cup hot scalded milk. Line bottom of baking dish with potatoes and lightly press sausage into potato bed to form six individual servings. Cover the top with white sauce and sprinkle with grated cheese and buttered crumb. Bake in oven to a delicate brown.

Quick and Easy Roast Chicken with mushroom gravy was another head line attraction. For a quick, sensitive dinner one of those whole chickens, which come stuffed and roasted is truly a godsend. It's all ready for quick heating in your oven and, as it's put up in its own rich juices, it needs only a little thickening and 1 cup of sautéed mushrooms in jig time.

DELICIOUS CHICKEN
Open the glass container, remove the chicken and place in a smooth baking pan. The oven should be pre-heated to 450. Bake the chicken once or twice with the juices and it will quickly brown. Stir one tablespoon of flour smooth in 1/2 cup of milk or cream and stir into the boiling hot gravy. Add 1 cup of diced canned mushrooms or fresh mushrooms sautéed 5 minutes in butter. Arrange hot baking powder biscuits around the chicken and serve with the hot gravy, or for last of blueberries.

When you consider the time, trouble and expense connected with roasting a chicken at home, it's sure you'll appreciate the many virtues of this new, convenient and most modern roast chicken. Plump, tender and milked, these chickens are stuffed with delicious Southern style dressing and carefully cooked in their own rich juices in a crystal clear, hermetically-sealed glass container—which you use afterwards to make beans or rice.

If you prefer, the chicken can be served sliced cold or in salads or sandwiches. It is so tender that it slices beautifully and the spicy dressing adds to its delightful flavor. In five minutes the chicken can be fried, a delicious golden brown or fried with rice and dumplings. Imagine the satisfaction of having two or three of these chickens on your pantry shelf in your summer cottages, as well as in your winter home—and for the coming summer picnic or far away vacation camp.

MOLDEN SALMON with cucumber sauce is another delicious food combination that you are sure to want to add to your collection. Especially the cucumber. Sautéed cucumbers delicately seasoned and combined with lemon juice and whipped cream.

The Lemon Ice Box Cake was hand-drawn the picture of a tree that doesn't fit—as it was delicious and easy to make. It was easy to make. You don't have to have a ring mold in order to prepare this dessert as it can be arranged in a rather deep mixing bowl very nicely. This recipe, too, is yours for the asking. Don't forget to give your registered club number.

Hermits That Young and Old Appreciate
1/2 c. sugar
1/2 c. butter
2 eggs
1/2 cup baking soda
1 c. raisins
1/2 c. chopped citron
1/2 c. milk
1/2 c. unbleached flour
1/2 c. each nutmeg, cinnamon and ginger.

Beat the butter and sugar to a cream, add the raisins and citron, then the milk, sift the soda and spices with flour, add these and roll about one-third of an inch thick cut into rounds and bake on a greased pan in a quick oven. These will keep for months.

This chowder is until you have actually tried it. It really is a duty to distinguish it from mother's best. Freshaddock, young potatoes and other choice ingredients, moderately seasoned, are packed ready to use with just the addition of milk or water and a bit of butter. And best of all, you don't have to look out for the house—there are three any disagreeable pieces of skin such as sometimes slip into even the best of the homemade brews. Truly, we were more than surprised at this honest-to-goodness home flavored chowder, and feel sure that you will like it as well as we do. Name on request, of course.

MARKET WATCH TOWER VIEWS

I've never heard whether the hen came before the egg ever was settled, but there is no question that the marketing must come before the meal.

A brief browse through the markets this week revealed that an abundance of spring delights in the way of vegetables, fruits and fish. You may want to bear down last strongly on the hearty foods for the next five months, and it is also well to keep early canning and preserving in mind.

Asparagus is a real spring tonic, and some particularly good boys are to be found just now. Tender and green clear to the end and of satisfying stich. Most of today's asparagus is from South Carolina and the prices range from 25c to 50c per bunch. Cold weather has delayed the native product, but Cape Cod will have some on the stands in a week or so. Cabbages are lower, being from 7c to 10c for new and 5c to 6c for old. Blueberry is cheaper, native now being 12-20c per lb., and some of it is outdoor grown. Mushrooms are high, but still tempt the epicure.

Bananas are the outstanding economical buy at the fruit counter and fresh pineapples sell for 15-25c each. Argentine grapes are 30c to 50c per pound, and strawberries are bringing 40-50c per quart. A few are a little higher. However, the natives will be in before long. Try experimenting with swordfish. You'll be surprised at its versatility. It runs a little high—45c per pound, but its solid meat and fine flavor lend themselves well to unusual culinary combinations. Fillet of sole, deliciously browned and cured, is always a treat. Fresh halibut steak is an attractive buy, and tinker mackerel are only 15-16c per pound.

Lamb, veal and ham continue reasonable in price, although lamb prices are slightly higher than last week.

Packages for early window boxes come in boxes of six or more plants for around 25c.

These Fruits are Most Delicious

1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup molasses
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup grape jelly
2 cups flour
2 eggs, baking powder
1/4 tsp. soda
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. nutmeg
3 cups finely chopped raisins, dates or figs
Cream the shortening and sugar, then add the molasses, milk and grape jelly. Mix and sift the dry ingredients and to them add the fruit and nuts. Combine the rolls. Add enough flour to roll out; cut and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 10 to 12 minutes. They may be baked in a bread pan and sliced thin.

Here's a Good Drink

For Your Night Cap
For a refreshing drink just before retiring, squeeze the juice of half a lime into a tall glass, fill up with ice cold, pale dry ginger ale and take with one or two of our favorite new whole wheat rollins. Then sleep the sleep of the just.

Body is Recovered

Manchester, N. H., May 2.—The body of Bernard Peterson, 21, was recovered from Lake Massabesic last evening.

Mrs. Strook Dies

Mrs. Lena Strook, 62, widow of Samuel Strook, died yesterday at her home, 48 St. Paul's ter, Brooklyn.

GELATINE DESSERTS ARE SO GOOD—AND SO GOOD FOR YOU

You know the importance of gelatine in the diet, of course. With Plymouth Rock Plain Gelatine on hand, you can serve jellies more often—because it takes less time to make them—and less time for them to jell. The box contains a generous amount, four packets that make five servings each. Let your family revel in delicious, healthful desserts. Use Plymouth Rock in the baby's formula. It's pure, and dissolves completely in an instant.

PLYMOUTH ROCK Plain GELATINE

PLYMOUTH ROCK COFFEE JELLY IS ALL PREPARED FOR YOU. Delicately flavored jelly made from small coffee beans, instant coffee granules. You make it in 5 minutes by dissolving the granules in boiling water. Always hot right in flavor, not too sweet and soft.

Gas Range Guides Bride In Selecting Home

"I've found a house in Brookline," rejoiced one of our prospective brides in the Martha Lee Cooking School last Tuesday evening. "And what do you suppose made us decide on this particular house?" Just because it has a gas range exactly like the one you use here in the Martha Lee Kitchen! I know what wonderful success you have with the automatic heat control and the insulated oven of your gas range, and when I saw that stove standing in the pretty tiled kitchen, I just knew that that was the house for me!"

We are almost as pleased as our bride, for we know that the automatic heat control and the insulated oven of your gas range, and when I saw that stove standing in the pretty tiled kitchen, I just knew that that was the house for me!"

NOT BLEACHED—and what it means

Dr. Copeland says—
"In his Ceresota radio talks, 'Why should flour be made from high quality wheat, be tempered with the least? In other words, why should flour be bleached when the finest northern spring wheat is selected for the milling as is the case with every sack of Ceresota Flour.'"

New Tin-Jacketed Fish Chowder From Maine

If the Martha Lee staff appeared particularly "tick and wickled" today, it was entirely due to the delicious blending of a food product brand new to us—a real honest-to-goodness Maine coast fish chowder, sealed for your convenience in a sanitary tin jacket.

I'm told that the formula for this fish chowder was cooked from an old sea captain, who dipped it out from his three-legged iron kettle "way down East." While, of course, the modern chowder is made under the most improved sanitary processes, nevertheless it carries with it the flavor of the Atlantic coast and Captain Jim's old recipe. It's hard to believe just how

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Finds Letters From Readers on Education
Editor Boston American:
You know what I like to read in your paper, besides the editorials, it is those letters. They just give me something to think about. Then I like to know what other people think about something. Sometimes I do not agree with what is said, but then that does not matter.
If you could send me more letters about education, I would be very glad to read them. I am sure that you would get many more letters about education than you do now.
I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
HATTIE ABRAHAM,
14, Charlestown.

Common "Talkies"
Great Safety Valve
Editor Boston American:
Boston Common is alive on Sunday afternoons with all sorts of "talkies" from different speakers. Orators are born there with their tales, fables, fancies and whims.
It is amusing to hear them. Last Sunday, I made the walk between the stands. You can hear a whiff of common sense occasionally and the speaker is a bit of a talker. I have heard a number of common sense speakers. One man stood up there with a flow of knowledge about psychology. Another brought out what he was saying by thousands of years of history.
I heard his speech and rancor against all forms of government. One man stood to piece every other established teaching, but his socialist ideas. I believe this is the great safety valve in the country. Many of these speakers are full of hot air. It is a comfort that it is left in the air of Boston Common.
M. L. HILL.

Boston
Urges War by Prof. Rogers on Bluffers
Editor Boston American:
Boston was treated a short time ago to a practical address on the art of bluffing. The speaker was not a humorist, but a psychologist. Everyone knows what a bluffer is, but it takes time to discover him. There is nothing so deceptive at first as one of these persons.
There are in business, however, sometimes they are readily covered by their slips. As well, in the professions, lawyers, physicians, preachers.
A bluffer is one that pretends to have greater knowledge than he actually possesses. Many get away with this. It is only once in a great while, you can spot them and give them a call down. There is a type of salesman who depends upon this measure of bluff. That has fooled people many times. I often think that there is an opportunity for Prof. Robert E. Rogers to "teach" to aim his jug at. He wants us to understand, sobriety, but here is target that shows his arrows of rascals.
B. N. MOOREY

Drop Hate for a Full Growth of Hair
Editor Boston American:
Have any of your readers watched for hatless men in Boston? I do not mean the student in the Back Bay, who never wears any hat, gear in the street. Because this designates them as students of more than usual brain capacity.
I mean the three hatless men who meander around Boston streets in all kinds of weather, without hat, cap, or any sort of covering for the head.
One is beyond middle age by some years. He is like Beantown bibe fence and would vie with him in being a hairy man. I stood near him the other day. He has a fine crop of old whiskers as well as chin hairs.

CONSTIPATION IS A HEALTH THIEF

Drive It from Your System with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN
Constipation steals the best out of your life. Robs you of strength, vitality, health itself! And many people do not realize that perpetual fatigue, coated tongues, bad breath, are often signs that constipation is in their system.
You must move poisons out of your system and keep them moving. But there's a right way and a wrong way. Pains, drowsiness and ordinary cathartics give only temporary relief—and their dose must be constantly increased to be effective.
The great, natural cleanser is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. A tasty cereal, which brings you a healthy blood building—and, above all, corrects constipation. The abundant roughage in ALL-BRAN gently and naturally sweeps out poisons, wastes and impurities.
Physicians recommend ALL-BRAN. It's guaranteed. Two tablespoons daily. Recurring constipation with every meal.
You'll like the nut-like flavor of ALL-BRAN. Eat it in many ways. Delicious with milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Make soufflé with it. At all prices. Served in hotels, restaurants, dining cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Editor Boston American:
What you recently said about pedestrians being killed by auto recalls a statement in Boston, given out by a member of a prominent firm, who has just returned from Europe.
Recent legislation in Italy and Spain demands of motorists gentlemanly behavior on the part of drivers. If they fail they receive a penalty of long years.
Auto drivers in these two countries, it was added, now raise their hats in right of pedestrians, with an "After you, sir, or madame!"
This "After you" might well be enforced on Boston's congested streets instead of auto drivers enjoying frightening pedestrians with their sharp turns in the roads, spurts of speed and then laughing at the sudden surprise upon those affected by these antics. There are few drivers who know what pedestrians seek as their rights on Boston streets.
Winkashar.

T. I. TITUS.
and the top of his head is luxuriant with sprouting shoots of tender hair. If we are going to save the shield of our scalp, we must have summer sport a bare head. I understand that they have formed a club. These champions of the pompadour.
HENRY T. STRATTON.
One Way to Improve Educational Standard
Editor Boston American:
Boston is so complete in educational facilities that one hesitates to make any suggestion about new projects along this line. Yet I saw in Westminster, England, on Victoria st., a chemistry house, metallurgical and mining societies under one roof. We have achieved something like this in America, and I would like to see in Greater Boston an institution that would comprehend all that is implied in the name of chemistry, for more than ever chemistry is coming to the surface in many results that are going to change our old views. This branch of learning is making a strong appeal to woman-kind, and those who have already started have done much credit to themselves. Chemistry will become more and more a specialty.
N. M. MANSON.
Says Laws Should Be Brought Up to Date
Editor Boston American:
The decision of a case in a court in this State, has verified what Dean Joseph Pond of Harvard Law School affirms, that "Many of our laws were fashioned by pioneers in the needs of a pioneer society."
This legal scholar says there has been no decadence in the moral fibre of the people. Why, because what were virtues in the pioneer and in pioneer societies, are no longer virtues according to modern interpretation of conduct and character.
You cannot judge people today in their actions by laws on our statute books. Laws grow up every generation, to guide and warn them. But with every law are no longer obeyed, because they were enacted for a special generation not this generation.
N. M. MICHELSON.

Black Iron Stove Polish

All my friends are using Schilitz now. They say it's the finest malt syrup in the world—and they ought to know!"
You too will wear a smile of satisfaction after using the first cup of Schilitz Malt Syrup. It is extra good. Economical too, because it goes farther. It will please your taste better and you'll find out what you've missed.

CANCER STUDY SPEEDED

By CORNELL BERRISH LAL.
San Francisco, May 2 (U.S.)—Dr. Walter E. Coffey and John D. Humber are developing plans for further steps in their anti-cancer research work here in view of the announcement of a forthcoming endorsement to aid their research by public-spirited Californians, including Paul Shoup, Herbert Frickbacher and Stanley Dollar.
But Dr. Coffey and Humber appeared distinctly gratified with the turn of events at the California Medical Association annual session at Del Monte, where a resolution was passed by the doctors' assembly virtually endorsing the Coffey-Humber work.
"Believing that an ounce of fact is better than a ton of uninformed controversy, we prefer not to enter into futile arguments with our critics," said Coffey and Humber.
"This is not a controversy that can be settled through the public press," Dr. Coffey continued. "But I assure you, for myself and Dr. Humber, that in due course of time we will place before the scientific bodies plenty of facts as the basis of our proof."

Woman Drowned as Auto Overtakes

Chelmsford, May 2—Mrs. Aidno Santos, 34, drowned in a brook here last night when her daughter's automobile went down an embankment and over turned in the water. The daughter, Mary, 17, was uninjured, but Mrs. Santos' son, Joseph, 30, and his wife, were taken to St. John's Hospital at Lowell suffering from shock. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Santos' baby, Marion, was uninjured. All were Lowell residents.
Pharmacist managed to get all of the party out of the automobile after the accident, but when Mrs. Santos reached the hospital at Lowell she was dead.

TREATY DEBATE WILL BE LONG

Washington, May 2—Whatever the administration's desire for haste, the London Naval Treaty will be exhaustively scrutinized by the upper house, Senate leaders made clear today.
Not only will the three-headed committee inquire, starting next week, be extensive, but the debate on ratification on the floor will be protracted. The development means adjournment likely will extend beyond the scheduled date of June 1.
Although he has indicated friendliness to the pact, Senator Borah announced his committee would investigate fully before reporting.
"It is an important treaty and should have careful and deliberate consideration," said Borah. "I want to hear all about it. I would like to know about the reduction that is claimed for the treaty."

Prof. Bliss Perry Ends His Work at Harvard

Prof. Bliss Perry, one of Harvard's outstanding teachers, today said farewell to his classroom and to active teaching.
He will give his last lecture in Sever Hall this morning.
Perhaps no one among the present corps of Harvard instructors and professors has endeared himself to generations of Harvard students as has Bliss Perry in two decades of teaching at the Cambridge university.
The number of students who under the guidance and tutelage of Bliss Perry have developed an interest and even a love for poetry and other branches of English literature, will never be known. But the number certainly runs into the thousands.
TAUGHT FOR 20 YEARS
Among the courses that he has given at Harvard for the past 20 years are his famous English 41, a general survey of English literature; and a course in Emerson, which he alternates with a course in Carlyle. He has also taught poetry, fiction and the history of English literature.
Prof. Perry is known to the Harvard student body as the most interesting lecturer on the Harvard faculty. Students not especially interested in English literature, have attended his lectures just to hear him talk.
HIS LAST LECTURE
This morning Prof. Perry conducted his last classroom lecture. And when he returns again to the halls he has frequented for almost a quarter of a century, it will be as a visitor.
Although retiring today, Perry is still extremely active, much more so than many men his senior. He is a thorough sportsman, with fishing and golfing his two hobbies. And now that his teaching years are over, he expects to take many a fishing and hunting trip.

GAS the better FUEL... assures

The Supreme Heating Service

No man or woman in this modern age should endure the back-breaking, dirty work of old-fashioned house heating. Gas, the modern, the better fuel, is now the preferred selection of more and more home builders and owners who choose it for its constant, clean, healthful heat. Gas, unlike any other fuel, requires no storage. It is continuous in supply through protected underground pipes, so no handling of fuel is required. There is never any noise, but instead, a silent temperature control on the wall, and your home remains always at the desired warmth no matter what the weather may be. Your basement, too, becomes an added room for living or recreation. So Gas, the Better Fuel, the modern way to heat homes, is the only heating service combining all these advantages. That is why in New England, there are now thousands of homes heated with gas. Your own gas company will gladly estimate without obligation its cost in your home. Gas heating equipment may be had on convenient terms.

FOR SPORTS—CALL LIBERTY 4000

Revamped B. C. Nine Plays Syracuse Today

HARVARD IS FAVORITE IN BIG MEET

The Greater Boston Intercollegiate track meet, largest of its kind ever to be held in this vicinity, starts today when 400 local college track stars enter the qualifying round at Harvard Stadium today.

Harvard is the favorite to win the meet. The team has won the championship for the last three years, and it is expected to repeat its success this year.

With competition between various colleges, the meet is expected to be a very close one. The Harvard team is expected to be the strongest, but the other colleges are also expected to be very competitive.

STARS IN COLLEGE TRACK MEET

TOM MASON

'ZEUS' WILCEWSKI

The Greater Boston Intercollegiate track meet begins today at Harvard Stadium. Above are shown two stars who are expected to win points for their respective colleges. Tom Mason, Harvard track captain, is picked to win the century, while Zeus Wilcewski, Boston College, is a favorite in the shot put.

Dash Will Require

to Heats in Trials

Consistent racing will be in order from the opening run. Nine heats are necessary to reduce the field in the freestyle and velocity high hurdles. 18 heats are required in the 100-yard dash.

Edie Farrell, dean of the Cambridge club, said that the Harvard team is expected to be the strongest, but the other colleges are also expected to be very competitive.

Blue Hill Country Club

to Have Full Course

JOHNNY FORD, pro at the Blue Hill Country Club, dropped in to see Mr. Boston.

"Work is going ahead rapidly on the new hole at our club," said Johnny. "When everything is completed we shall have one of the finest 18-hole courses in New England."

How Steve Hannagan

Became Auto Leader

MR. BOSTON has received a flock of press information from Steve Hannagan in regard to the Indianapolis Motor Speedway 200-mile race.

"Steve," said Mr. Boston, "is one of the country's leading race drivers. He is largely responsible for the exciting automobile races in the Indianapolis classic. Before Steve took charge of the publicity for the Indianapolis classic, the stories about the event were restricted to long, uninteresting accounts about engines and mechanical things."

Boston College Has Chance

to Win Second Place

CHARLES PARSONS, in the 100-yard dash, Jack Carey, who ran a 1:10, and Bill Mulvey, in the 1:16, are the favorites to win the 100-yard dash.

Bill Mulvey, who ran a 1:10, is the favorite to win the 100-yard dash. He is expected to be the strongest, but the other colleges are also expected to be very competitive.

Vacca and Paluso in

Rhode Island Bout

JOHNNY VACCA, of Brighton, the champion of New England bantamweight, is scheduled to fight in the Rhode Island bout.

Paluso, who is expected to be the strongest, but the other colleges are also expected to be very competitive.

Sharkey to Give All

Chance at Title

JACK SHARKEY, American heavyweight champion, told Mr. Boston that in the event he defeats Max Schmeling in their 13-round world heavyweight championship bout at the Madison Square Garden in New York on June 12 that he will not retire until he has been beaten.

Newton High Wins

Golf Match, 5 to 4

Newton High golf team avenged its 1-4 defeat in a recent match by defeating the Cambridge team 5 to 4.

Adonis Kayos Gordon

to Retain Title

ADONIS KAYOS GORDON, champion of the world in the bantamweight division, is expected to retain his title in the upcoming bout.

WINCHESTER HORSE SHOW TOMORROW

Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., of Hamilton, will judge hunters and jumpers; Samuel J. Shaw of Brookline, saddle horses, and Miss Evelyn Bryson of Newton, riding competitions, at the Winchester Horse Show, which will open the local season for show stables tomorrow at Goddard riding school, Franklin ave., Medford.

HERMAN TO HURL FOR EAGLES

Capt. Pete Herman will pitch for Boston College when the Eagles revamped lineup plays its first home game since April 19 against Syracuse University at the Heights this afternoon.

Hughie Duffy has revamped his team and expects to have a smoother working combination in the infield.

The new men in the infield are

Johnny Temple at third and Fred Donovan at second. Peter Herman, the hardest hitter on the team, stepped into left field in the shift, but Larry Gibson will be in left today with Duffy electing Herman to pitch.

Boston College's infield lost college

ball in Andy Boggs, and Fido Kelly, sophomore, wasn't quite able to fill Boggs' place. Paddy Creedon, three-year veteran, is now at the short field and turning in excellent performances.

Downes and Rean are the only ball players on the B.C. nine who have been hitting the seats and those overers are up where they should be.

But nevertheless, the on College has got a hard-sticking lineup and probably will show it before the season is much older. Creedon, Robert, Herman and Temple have started to hit and they'll probably make life miserable for opposing hurlers until the campaign crosses the finish line.

Diamond Pick-Ups

Harry "Socks" Seibold's victory over Pittsburgh was his third in a row this season. He pitched the opening game for the Braves and was beaten by one run by the Giants. Since then, he has set Brooklyn down twice and the Pirates once.

GLADSTONE ON WITH PLESTINA

Henri Dignane, greatest French wrestler in the history of the sport, will step into the spotlight once more next Thursday night when he battles Martin Plestina, Tarsan of the mat, in a two fall bout of three French matches at the Arena.

Dignane is one of the bright new stars that started appearing in the wrestling firmament this year. A lean-cut, cool, experienced fighter, he has rushed to the front with a series of victories over some of the best-known grapplers in the game.

A sensational work reached a climax a month ago when he wrestled Gus Sonnenberg for the heavyweight title at the Arena. One of the most melodramatic matches Boston has seen in years. Dignane, wrestling Sonnenberg, won the match by beating the opponent from the ring, and when the game Frenchman staggered back into the ring, he carried two broken ribs and a slight concussion of the brain back with him.

Girls Plan Long Stay at Ranch

Vincent Club Members Will Leave Soon for Vacation in Wide Open Spaces

QUITE THE SMARTEST thing to do this summer is to spend two months at Valley Ranch, the "dude" ranch which is located near Wyoming, Colo. Several of our Boston Vincent Club girls are starting for the West with a group from New York to live for a while in the great open spaces after a hectic winter in town.

OF COURSE, ONE WOULD not venture on such a journey unless one loved horses and was a devotee in the saddle because a six weeks' camping trip is part of the program and only real equestrians could cope with it. It is not infrequently the mother of three venturesome maidens that the tragedy of the Lippincott of Philadelphia has not been forgotten—you remember that her mother, Mrs. Lippincott of the Quaker City, left her daughter on a ranch near Valley Ranch—for a few days to attend a funeral in the family—and her heady daughter reached home when word was received that her lovely daughter had eloped with an Indian guide.

SUCH A THING COULD never happen at Valley Ranch because the girls are supervised and carefully guided in the way they should go and we hear that Polly Winslow, the Grew girls and maybe Dorothea Newman may be in the party. It will make the trip seem, it is an invitation affair, and the word is better and luxury, special trains and everything. During the winter, Valley Ranch conducts a school for boys.

Mrs. Barger Kasey Bride of F. A. Lord in Garden Wedding

A GARDEN WEDDING WAS held at the home of Mrs. James F. Curtis, of F. A. Washington, for Mrs. Barger Kasey, formerly of the United States Shipping Board, Mrs. Curtis was remembered for her too heavy divorce from "Jimmy" Kasey, only to discover that romantic drama of youth sometimes are very real and she remained her husband much to the delight of her friends. Miss Pauline Curtis, flower maid and the distinguished company included the bridesmaid of the House and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth (Alice Roosevelt).

SOCIETY GIRLS SIMPLY will not lead the life of a rich, and Mrs. John Blinn (Vernice Ayres), Mrs. John Pezzy Read, Miss Polly Beale and Miss Nancy Cook are no exception. We hear that these ambitious young girls are acting in an advisory capacity for a prominent Boston girl, jewelry, attracting his displays, trim-

Flowered Chiffon for Fine Summer Evenings

From Paris Bureau, Boston Evening American.

Paris, May 2—Flowered chiffons are night-blooming affairs this season, since the monotone type of fabrics seems to be much in favor for sunny hours.

The delicate charm of filmy chiffons printed in soft floral patterns seem to be eminently suitable to the ethereal splendor of a glamorous Summer evening, and so we may confidently expect to see such chiffons trail gracefully across the Summer evening scene when the top of the world is just one vast roof-garden and the open-air restaurants in the Bois de Boulogne with alluring invitation.

Floral patterned chiffons and georgettes lend themselves with ease to the long, slim trailing line that is handed out by the mode this year.

As far as suits are concerned the particular triumph of the season has been scored by a model chez Chanel that is beautifully tailored and still manages to capture a jaunty air of nonchalance that is youthful and therefore irresistible.

Chanel used black wool crepe for the model that will no doubt be copied in every possible and impossible fabric, for it is a suit that seems doomed to popularity and therefore will be duplicated everywhere by everybody.

The slightly fitted coat is stitched in scallops along the edges, which are afterward cut close to the outer row of stitching. A vest of white pique is similarly treated along the edges. The skirt is slightly circular in cut with a set-in panel in front.

The summer evening frock is from Louise Boulanger, who made it of soft gray chiffon with a printed white and pink floral design. The trailing skirt has flounces of irregular length, softly shirred onto a loose top piece in one with the bodice softly draped at the waist center. Jeweled buckles holds this drapery in place.

BLACK WOOL CREPE is used by Chanel for this suit. Certain to be one of season's popular evening frock of soft gray chiffon, with flower design—(sketched in Paris.) LOUISE BOULANGER made this summer evening frock of soft gray chiffon, with flower design—(sketched in Paris.)

Clubwomen Give Silver Service to Mrs. Packard

By NANCY BREWSTER

The glorified women are the clubwomen! The "mythical and illusive" shell on which women have been placed in the past has faded out of the picture, and today, in a constant spirit, courage, vision, brilliance and temperament are needed in the world more than ever.

"The world looks to women for leadership and right-thinking," says a preliminary parting message to the official family of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, which has been held at the head of which she stood for so long. Mrs. Axel A. Packard, executive woman's work, led new conquests for her and glorified the general picture of femininity.

MAY DAY PROGRAM It was all part of the colorful May Day program to which Bay State club leaders gracefully lent themselves annually when officers, district directors and department chairmen get together in a play-report and resumes of recent work and untiring efforts are given.

To Mrs. Homer P. Ingh, chairman of meetings, was given the honor of the success of the luncheon meeting. To her the clubwomen thank for their introduction and congratulatory remarks.

FLOWER METAPHORS This May Day Day was an with those of the official family. Imaginary "Federation" Garden was referred to as the "state" and on "beauty" and "love you" was presented with a service by Mrs. Ingh.

The women of Massachusetts who belong to the hundreds of clubs dotted here and there on the Bay State horizon adore Mrs. Packard. Working with her as head of one of the most powerful federations in the entire General Federation of Women's Clubs, she is not only a privilege to them but a cherished and honored memory.

RETIRED TRIBES Mrs. Packard retires this year to become Massachusetts director in the General Federation. The meeting opened with the introduction of the retiring department chairmen: Mrs. Henry A. Chambliss, art; Mrs. Carolyn J. Pack, press and publicity; Mrs. Anna C. Palmer, public health; Mrs. Daniel Goodrich, conservation; Mrs. Charles D. French, international relations; Mrs. A. B. French, international relations; Mrs. A. B. French, international relations.

Dr. Merritt M. Eddy of Middlebury, Vt., 75-year-old dean of New England physicians, who was guest of honor at the New England Medical Center luncheon here on Wednesday, today took farewell of the hosts to return to his home in Vermont.

Hotel Women's Relief Association Plans Big Event June 7

Now that the New England Hotel Women's Relief Association has elected officers for next year, the women are celebrating the next "big event," which takes place at City Hall Farm in North Haven, June 7, and which will afford them considerable amusement and enjoyment as well as a day in the great outdoors.

One who will not be there to participate in the festivities is Mrs. Arthur L. Race, secretary-treasurer of the association since its inception, who left for a two months' tour of Europe.

At the annual meeting the following were elected: Mrs. Herbert G. Sumner, president; Mrs. William W. Davis, Mrs. Gilman M. Lougee, vice-presidents; Mrs. Mabel Martin, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William P. Lyle, Mrs. George H. Lyle, Mrs. Charles L. May, Mrs. W. O. Dixon, Mrs. George H. Sanford and Miss Mary Jacobson.

Today Must See End of Inefficiency and Graft in Police Department

Today must be the last that sees Boston's police department operated by inefficient and supine officials.

Other members of the department, formally accused of grafting, of fattening upon vice and upon partnership in crime, must be stripped of their uniforms today, to remain so stripped until they have proved themselves innocent—if they can.

Governor Allen can NO LONGER DELAY the positive action he should have taken long ago.

The evidence, the Warner report, is before him. There is no longer any possible excuse for delaying the inevitable.

WILSON MUST BE RELIEVED OF HIS COMMAND TODAY.

Other officials, directly accused of inefficiency or worse in the splendid report of Mr. Warner, must be suspended until they have stood trial.

It is unthinkable that the police department continue for even one day longer directed and controlled by commanding officers bearing the branding given them in the attorney-general's report. The morale of the men has been badly shaken in the past few months, adding to the chaos brought about by laxness on the part of these commanding officers. Quick action is needed now to prevent the utter rout of discipline and efficient operation.

THE GOVERNOR CANNOT EVADE HIS RESPONSIBILITY. If the state of Massachusetts chooses to usurp the control of Boston's police department, the Commonwealth's executives cannot escape the responsibility for all the acts of their appointees.

The truth is out at last, AND AS AN OFFICIAL RECORD. Boston stands before the world, through no fault of its own, as having a corrupt and weakly-managed police department. It is far better that the truth be known, however, no matter how horrifying it may be, than that this city continue to foster and support a graft-ridden and corrupt department. Boston may now show it does not countenance the continued corruption of its police force by taking decisive steps to oust and imprison the guilty grafters, and by replacing weak and spineless officials with strong and independent men who will reorganize the entire department on a proper basis.

Thanks to Mr. Warner and his courageous aides, the investigation into the Garrett pensioning was not sidetracked, nor was it permitted to degenerate into the showing up of a minor link in a ring of corruption and obvious inefficiency.

Mr. Warner has reported to the Legislature WHO, WHERE, WHY and HOW MUCH.

By so doing, he and his able assistants, including Special Assistant Attorney-General Damon E. Hall and George B. Lourie, have earned the gratitude of the people of Boston and of the Commonwealth.

The Boston Evening American is happy to have been able to help in the great work in some small way. Long ago this newspaper insisted that the Garrett case was but the visible manifestation of rotten conditions corrupting and undermining the police department. For this reason, the American takes special pleasure in joining with the public in congratulating the men who have carried on the investigation to the hoped-for conclusion, despite all efforts to delay and head off the inquiry.

If Governor Allen does his duty as well as Mr. Warner has, tonight's setting sun will see new men in charge of Boston's police department. It will see an unobstructed path to the penitentiary opened up for the grafters.

It will see honesty, courage and justice re-established once more in the police department.

How Are Criminals Made?

In Nine Cases Out of Ten It Is No MYSTERY

Some of the prisoners in that Ohio Penitentiary are hard and vicious and nothing can be done but to treat them as decently as possible and salvage whatever is left for society. Treat them in civilized fashion, give them work to do and prevent them from continuing their careers of law-breaking.

But little has been done since the Columbus horror to convince all the others in that prison that the people outside are anything but their deadly enemies. They went through a ghastly ordeal; they saw their friends and fellow-prisoners burned alive and since then they have been kicked around, drenched with water, quitted with gas bombs, fired at with rifles, marched between lines of fixed bayonets and been given NO promises of more humane treatment in the future than they had up to ten days ago.

In fact, they have been confirmed in any conviction that they might have held that the only thing for them to do is to be tough, break all the laws they can and stay with their criminal careers until they are finally "bumped off."

And how do men get that way, either in Ohio or in any other state?

In answer we quote from a statement made by Dr. James E. Haggerty, head of the sociology at Ohio State University and director of the School of Social Administration—who knows more about Ohio's prisons than any other man in the state. He says:

"The penal institutions of Ohio constitute a perfect educational system for the teaching of crime. A boy who is old enough to know much about crime lands in the juvenile court and is sentenced to the Lancaster Industrial School. There, in association with older, tougher boys, he learns his first lessons in the technique of crime. After the age of 18 he lands in the reformatory at Mansfield, where he picks up a higher education in wrongdoing. Next we find him in the State Prison, taking what might be called a post-graduate course in crime.

"I have repeatedly traced cases like that which have started in boyhood at Lancaster and finished in the State Penitentiary. ANYWHERE ALONG THE LINE, INTELLIGENT HANDLING OF THE WONDROUS MIGHT HAVE RECLAIMED AND MADE A USEFUL CITIZEN OF HIM. But the present system, which is based on the principle of incarceration rather than constructive reformation, merely acts as a very efficient school of crime."

Of the 4200 men who were in the prison at Columbus, 3000 are left and the majority of them will be released some day with hatred in their hearts and a smouldering desire to get even—unless they are convinced that the people of Ohio and every other state have at last seen the criminal stupidity of maintaining our elaborate system of criminal education.

For those schools of crime, so ably damned by Professor Haggerty, are maintained by every state in the Union and they explain the creation of nine out of ten of the thousands of criminals who cost our country so much money and who break so many hearts.

A Lodge Tribute

Nation Owe Statesman Some Attention

Republicans, it is said, are often forgetful and sometimes ungrateful. Too often that is true.

Henry Cabot Lodge was called to his reward several years ago. Yet we see no adequate shrine to his memory or any memorial observance of his fine talents in the city and State in which he was born and in which he began his notable public career.

Lodge was for forty years in the service of his country. Of his approach to internal issues a controversy might be raised, according to the varying outlooks of society.

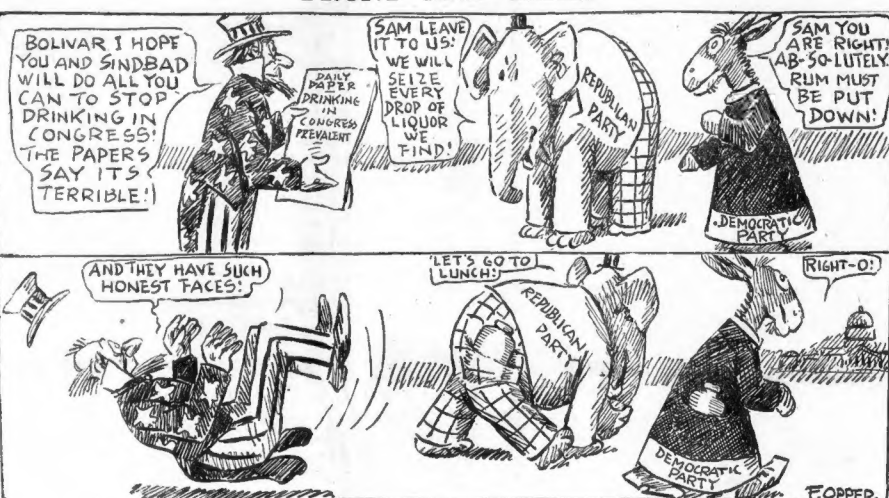

But his eloquent statesmanship and his devoted concern for the rights and security of his country in all matters of foreign policy never were and never could be doubted.

His effort to keep the United States out of the League of Nations and thus to protect the independence and sovereignty revealed a masterful leadership and denoted a rugged patriotism which ranked him with the noblest traditions of America.

His loyalty to the precepts of Washington, Jefferson and the Adamses could not be reversed by the cajolements and flatteries of the motley crew which assembled under the luring banner of internationalism more than his devotion to the Monroe Doctrine could be swayed when an alien race attempted to establish a military colony at Magdalena Bay.

Among the numerous celebrations this year of the founding of Massachusetts Bay a suitable time and place could be set aside by all Massachusetts people, regardless of political alignment, to offer tribute to one who did his utmost to sustain the patriotic ideals of the founders.

FRONT AND REAR

You have read about the cottage that had a Queen Anne front and Mary Ann back.

Learn here how the idea has been adopted and adapted by the Republican elephant and Democratic donkey.

Poor Uncle Sam, he will be 154 years old next Fourth of July. Shocks at his age are dangerous.

However, it has been truly said that a man cannot EAT all of the time, and therefore some of the time he must DRINK.

Mrs. Archibald Roosevelt, whose father-in-law was President Roosevelt, says in substance that the drier they are the more they drink.

Putting your 'valise down' carelessly will happen to the most careful of men. Sometimes it is a Democrat, sometimes it is a Republican Congressman that does it.

In both cases the valise leaks.

In neither case is anything done about it.

We live, not to put too fine a point upon it, in an age of hypocrisy and lying. The dry front and the wet back is a permanent fashion with our politicians.

The BAER Facts

By ARTHUR BAER

Prohibition seems to be chewing up temperance like a worm snipes an apple.

Every man who thinks with his own mind must concede that the Eighteenth Amendment is on the totem pole with its broken nose.

When Bill Roger of Princeton states that college men drink fluid, by he's sewing buttons on rainbows.

He knows what he is talking about. He is a college man, an athlete and a developer of athletes. There will be a lot of high-necked agitators who will yell for Roger's scalp.

There are quite a few people who put on smoked glasses on nice days and deny that the sun is shining. But on critical days ever protected by their feathers by burying its nose in the ground.

Mr. Roger says that the flap of prohibition has incited disrespect for the law among the nation's youth.

Mr. Roger's testimony shouldn't frighten parents. You cannot blame the incubator for the contents of the eggs.

Henry Ford has the best solution to the problem. He says if you drink you cannot work for him. He has a perfect right to do so. Any employer has and they have been securing that privilege for centuries.

H. G. Wells on "The Science of Life"

In Collaboration With Prof. Julian Huxley and G. F. Wells

(Continued from Yesterday) The Galapagos and St. Helena and other oceanic islands—lands, that is to say, of volcanic origin, which are separated by many miles of deep water from the continents, and apparently have never had any connection with the mainland—have much to tell us.

If different animals were created and placed in the same islands and birds and flowers and never any amphibians or land-mammals (except some of the too readily transportable mice!) it is emphatically not because such animals are unsuited to life on islands, for rabbits and goats, snails and frogs thrive well enough when introduced, and often so much too well that they become a pest.

But if the distribution of living things is the result of evolution and migration, the reason is plain. It will never be easy for such isolated patches of earth to be colonized by life at all; only those forms with remarkable powers of dissemination by air or water will reach them.

Land-mammals and amphibians have notoriously poor powers of dispersal; they cannot survive long exposures to water, nor have they any resistant stage in their life-history which can either be blown on the wind like the spores of lower plants, or resist the sea like the seeds and fruits of some higher plants. The same reasoning applies to New Zealand, New Zealand is not volcanic like true oceanic islands, but it is isolated only by the native land-mammals, a mouse, and only one amphibian.

It is separated from the rest of the continents by such distances, and has been separated for so long a time, that its animal population, the spore of discovery, was in most ways like that of a real mid-ocean volcano. At all the time it was most admirably suited to support those very forms of life which it lacked. The rest of its acclimated societies has stocked it with all kinds of European birds and animals and plants, many of which have found the country so much to their liking that they have become most abundant.

Why are the long-fish found only in Australia, tropical South America and tropical Africa?

Here geology solves our riddle. The discontinuity did not allow any wide-spread, but today has been exterminated save in a few patches.

Long-fish were among the most abundant of fishes in the world, and were then spread over the whole world; the competition of later-comers and the effects of fire extinguished almost all of them, and only three representatives have managed to survive in three patches of tropical fresh water.

The camels can be traced back to the Eocene (V. E.). Their remains are found at first only in North America. Thence, at the close of the Miocene (V. C.) they spread across two widely emerged land bridges, both of which led into South America and westward to Asia.

The two emigrant stocks went their own evolutionary ways to what we are today, while in their original home the family was abruptly extinguished in Pleistocene times (V. E.). Finally the tapirs, like the long-fish, were introduced into India and Malaya, and known as fossils from various Cenozoic (V. E.) beds in North America, Europe and Asia. Doubtless they early penetrated into India and Malaya and invaded South America by the Miocene (V. C.) land-bridges from the north.

New York

Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

New York, May 2—Thoughts like strolling. What became of eastern cleaners? There was a party on sale at Child's. Talbot Hunt, the author—and an authority on East Indian mystics. The window candy pulled on the eye, who sings arias from "Tosca." Adelaide Hall, reputed successor of Florence Mills.

Walter P. Chrysler, an Ella, Kala, boy who makes good in this city. An expressionless child himself a "truster." Jack Barragwan, Noyah McMillan's husband. The newer drug stores are restoring the red and green window bottles. Sign: "Obesity objectionable." Earl Brouman, the tailor.

Seven midgits equine out of a test in front of a theater. William Anthony McGuire, the playwright. Those who discarded newspapers out of rubbish cans. Chance about further—and bury on. Long-faced men with luminous eyes who sell athletic tracts.

Always a sale at luggage shops. An electrically lighted flag over a car with a German name. You can usually tell a cowpuncher by a small feet. He rarely walks, save when he comes to the city. The imperiously beautiful saleswomen in high priced candy stores. Wilton Lackaye looks like a tired bloodhound.

A drunk and a wheeler-barrow and talking to himself. Ladies who spend their time watching the unloading of ships. White oil, rope, pepper and fish. Water-front boarding houses. Squawking parrots. And bickering women with hair coiled in topknots lounging in doorways.

Husky stevedores in undershirts with tattooed arms and shining galls. Chinese cooks with flip-flopping sandals and mewing talk. Tankers freighted to the galleys. Dingy stands clouded with crinkly-blue smoke. Tugs nosing a liner into dock. And tooting away merrily.

The honking roar of taxis to the pier. Strained faces peering through steamer portholes. A plain in a cape coat. A bridge. The whirr of winches. Fluttering handkerchiefs and medley of cries. The gaspant lowers. And another ship is in.

Tellors, in calling measurements to their assistants, often cry: "B. L." It means the bird being measured has low legs. And never mind how I sound out.

Store-drawn carriages making their last stand about the Plaza are dwindling. Only about a half dozen are left, the rest having driven on into the endless night. The venerable cabbies sit hopelessly awaiting fare and the constant cry of "Taxi!" all about them. One tells me he is rarely able to realize more than $2 a day profit, and his comrades fare as badly.

Add metropolitan mystery: In a block on East 58th St. an elderly man with a white goatee sits at a street window before a small blackboard. He remains almost motionless, peering at the street save at intervals when he checks up something in the record. We hope it isn't a dirty word.

Then on Avenue A there is a block where a shawled woman appears shortly before dawn. She places a candle on a fire plug, lights it, crosses herself, blows out the flame and goes away.

A financial writer says Wall Street often suffers because the public will not come in—thereby talking like a theatrical producer.

"I saw you," writes H. D. F., "walk through Reuben's store without sitting down. Is that the way you pick up gossip?" Gossip and an occasional overcast.
